yeah but - if I call 911 - I would appreciate it if someone did respond - and I dont mean a response like - "get free fries at Arbys with every set of 4 tires"

Joe Bastardi @BigJoeBastardi

The whole aim of practical politics is to keep the populace alarmed (and hence clamorous to be led to safety) by menacing it with an endless series of hobgoblins, all of them imaginary. The urge to save humanity is almost always a false face for the urge to rule it, HL Mencken

It's kinda weird that Trump's visit to Iraq prompted discussions on mil flight tracking, OPSEC, social media etc, whereas April 2018 air strike on Syria by US, UK and France air arms, spoiled in realtime by the very same "tools", didn't. Background here: theaviationist.com/2018/04/14/eve...

911 service is back in operation today after an outage that started Thursday morning, causing police stations from coast-to-coast to direct people to call their 10-digit land lines. The FCC wants to know what caused the disruption and why it took so long to fix.

Per State 911 Dept., system issues that caused sporadic 911 outages today have been corrected, at least in MA. Systems have been tested & emergency calls to 911 are being routed to dispatch centers.

Please do NOT call 911 to test functionality, only call in an emergency.

The State 911 Department advises that the nationwide system issues that caused sporadic 911 outages throughout the day have been corrected, at least with respect to Massachusetts. Further, testing of the State 911 system confirms that our system is operational and that emergency calls to 9-1-1 are being routed to local and regional dispatch centers.

Residents are reminded to NOT call 911 or local 10-digit emergency number to test functionality. Please ONLY call if you need emergency services.
